GOVERNMEN EXHIBIT 412 05 Cr. 394 (ID)

DOWD: National House of Waffles (NYTimes)

By MAUREEN DOWD The New York Times, July 13, 2003 WASHINGTON

					•
				1
	·			н Т
	·		TL)
· · · · ·		/
			Not	Aboo ka

When the president attributed the information about Iraq trying to get Niger yellowcake to British intelligence, it was a Clintonian bit of flim-flam. Americans did not know what top Bush officials knew: that this "evidence" could not be attributed to American intelligence because the C.I.A. had already debunked it. - Not more than the line, even though the C.I.A. had warned her office that it was sketchy. Clearly, a higher power wanted it in.

And that had to be Dick Cheney's office. Joseph Wilson, former U.S. ambassador to Gabon, said he was asked to go to Niger to answer some questions from the vice president's office about that episode and reported back that it was highly doubtful asked to go to high to answer some questions norm the vice presidents only back that it was highly doubtful. Trust: Port resolve Anopri Recentor 199-Right Sol Marked WH. 5-10 Right IS: Specificity had NIS & Hroth it. LI

) Not to us - Flesher 7/2) i Truet 7/11 Sarger Rile

000841 LL001-00243 000842

LL001-00244

ī

1