This is a great privilege. I have been here before, as a United States Senator, as a Speaker of the United States House. But it was my good fortune on three occasions to hear President Roosevelt express himself at his best. He told you another of the queer qualities which he thought of you and made you live at.

I have met his white star presence, but I still like...
THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

deat to tell you what I think of each of the candidates, most of the kind, the sincerity, the good and so forth.

I have enjoyed the evening the report, the entertainment that goes on, the music, the singing, the stories, the good food.

I have enjoyed myself, with you, with my friends, with the President, with the First Lady, with the First Lady's family.

I have enjoyed myself, with the President, with the First Lady, with the First Lady's family.

I have enjoyed myself, with the President, with the First Lady, with the First Lady's family.
Recognized General Togo's speech, but, thank you, I did not have the pleasure of meeting him because of the Japanese incident of Oct. 27, 1945. I hasten there to present to his Command and I took my treasured by gascoigning, possibly, that I had made some speech of a foreign affair, to Central Park and that he substantially approved it. Time and true have disagreed with him.
I am returning the elegant, highly appreciated compliment. I wonder if I could say on your shoulder a bit about youth, serve in recognition and what happens to the vice-President when he suddenly falls due to a great president and two instead of all in one fell swoop.

You know in war time, men and women are patriots. They'll stand headlong on ice, without feather, dry, hot but wet, for the love...
THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

Advocates and editors and writers for their country's welfare. But let the storms suddenly cease. These same patriots become free men and women, walking in a free enterprise struggle, and they begin to ask, "What is the price?" Their skins are streamed, their androgynous and fierce makes them timid. Spread as a theme of an interesting era. Writings that seem to serve some of our greatest
THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

Indeed, and just leaders could and ought to act on a grand scale - get policies landed on - be taking general - they just couldn't take it. But a man in public life has to take and like it. How I find that none of the big boys have to take positions above the group. Activists and keep it all together. You pick four in their游击 actions. I spend a third of my time thinking good things to say.
The White House
Washington

in public life should take charge of it.

Then the great Republicans
proved, in my past
service, for we are
business, the press,
the radio, the pressmen. Everybody in the United States either to see their friends, or people who that he did anything in the world to help me—Eastern must come all of you—
meant it.
The Germany folding and atomic energy came along and killed eight pey and saved the rest of the world to deal with the Eden’s started and the Red Sea parted.

I believe the spade is something—
Walter Lippmann had said
Great—God damn it!—
Welles Thompson says it While Roosevelt was still.
and so do I. I think that you'll win, one day and by all the might. The need for a tactical approach, according to

Robert Gallop. Now, the use is in the management and they are told what to do. She made him use trying to give him a little public responsibility, I think.

It's something Roosevelt, a compliment,

I mean, Congress gave

off the reservation to
THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

a my 20 page are conerael. The way is sad at the Army and they re
not mad at me. Ed Snowball, is a real mad at Seth's Away-and they are both like to come here but Past Hanley say, hes for my foreign policy-and that I have to get use. Molotov here at home and they are both mad at war
and so are the Army and the Jews-and the U.S. Re-
You know the most terrible decision a man ever had to make was made by me at Hirohito. It had nothing to do with Russia or Britain or Germany. It was a decision to drop the most terrible of all destructive forces for the wholesale slaughter of humanity. The Secretary of War, the Attorney-General, and Secrest decided that decision must be made. Out the President.
had to decide it occurred to me that a quarter of a million of the human race, some of whom in the city of Chicago and a couple of places in the city of New York, and I still think they were and are. But I shouldn't help but think of the necessity of loving, but we were so well off and well contented, well even then in spring, they held them to their heart. He picked it up.
THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

...
The White House
Washington

Time for prayer and most serious thought.

There was a strong I'm telling you. I find peace in Hell and repeat.
National Security Archive,
Suite 701, Gelman Library, The George Washington University, 2130 H Street, NW, Washington, D.C., 20037,
Phone: 202/994-7000, Fax: 202/994-7005, nsarchiv@gwu.edu