Iran Daily Interview:

US Expert Analyzes 1953 Coup

For 46 years, the CIA has kept secret a particular document, a history about the plans of the 1953 coup and about the things that happened in the coup. The agency has refused to release the document.

In 1999, the National Security Archive file a lawsuit to force the CIA to release the same.

In 1999, the National Security Archive studies the history of US foreign policy, particularly during the cold war period. It has a specific mandate to look at US-Iran relations after the end of World War II. The organization is focusing on particular timeline points in the relationship.

In 1999, the National Security Archive filed a lawsuit to force the CIA to release the same.

In 1999, the National Security Archive studies the history of US foreign policy, particularly during the cold war period. It has a specific mandate to look at US-Iran relations after the end of World War II. The organization is focusing on particular timeline points in the relationship.

Suicide Bomber Kills Lankan Minister 7

Revolutions's Achievements Still Not Fully Analyzed

An overview of the seminar themes: Iraq and the Big Powers 1950-1954 held in Tehran (IRNA Photo)

TEHRAN, June 7 - A seminar entitled Iraq and the Big Powers 1950-1954 kicked off on Wednesday in the presence of domestic and foreign experts at the Foreign Ministry's Institute for Political and International Studies (IPIS).

Addressing the inaugural ceremony, deputy foreign minister for educational affairs, Sadeq Kharazi, pointed to the fundamental changes which have occurred to the country in the course of the Islamic Revolution. The regime tried its best to conceal the fact in its archives, and this is why it feels obliged to give legitimacy to its rule.

The expressed hope that the genuine historical record would be released so as to enable researchers to gain new conclusions and thereby reach a general consensus on its efforts to better understand the motives of the revolution.

On the opening day of the two-day seminar, participants will be discussing the role of the US, Britain, Pakistan and the oil industry, the nationalization movement and the Arabian, 1953 coup and CIA, Iran and the oil industry, nationalization movement.

Lebanese War Booty for the Army

BEIRUT, Lebanon, June 7 - The Lebanese Islamic resistance have said they will deliver all the war booty taken from the Israeli army to the Lebanese army. The decision was made over the occupiers' the generations to come. When the Islamic RCD south Lebanon together with the South Lebanon Army ac-

Perspective

Turkey's Obsessions

By MONSON SHAHAFAT

Sunday Elections for Majlis Presiding Board

TEHRAN, June 7 - The